Transportation Tips

- Use the Tube for most daytime travel.
- Each person needs their own contactless card, phone, or Oyster card.
- Use the same device to tap in and tap out. Do not tap in with a phone and tap out with an Apple Watch or a different card.
- Keep phone battery charged. Use TfL Go and Google Maps.
- Uber is usually cheaper. A black cab may feel easier and more official if available. FREENOW can book black cabs.
- Never accept rides from anyone offering a car on the street. Use only Uber, FREENOW, or an official black cab with a TAXI light.
- Night 1 rule: Do not take the Tube back. Take Uber directly back to the hotel. If Uber is too expensive, confusing, or pickup looks difficult, use FREENOW or an official black cab.

Safety and Common Sense

Stay together. Stay on main streets and main walking routes. Keep phones zipped away when not actively using them. Use Uber or black cab if tired or if it feels late. Do not accept rides from strangers. Save the hotel in Uber and Google Maps. Keep the portable charger charged. Message parents when leaving the hotel, arriving at major stops, and heading back. Carry passport copies, not passports, during daily sightseeing unless otherwise needed. Use the hotel address if you ever need help getting back.

Food Strategy

Do not over-plan restaurants. Most meals should be casual walk-in areas instead of reservations.

- Near hotel: Tachbrook Street / Warwick Way for easy food near the hotel.
- Day 1 dinner: Southbank Centre / Royal Festival Hall for casual walk-in options.
- Day 2 lunch: Borough Market. Walk around first, then choose.
- West End: Chinatown, Soho, Covent Garden, and Seven Dials for casual dinner, snacks, and dessert.
- Day 3 lunch: Camden Market for street food and snacks.

Day 1: Friday, June 26

Victoria, Westminster and South Bank

Main area	Victoria / Westminster / South Bank
Transportation	Walking + Big Bus + Uber home
Food	Casual lunch near hotel; casual dinner at Southbank Centre / Royal Festival Hall
Tickets	Big Bus and London Eye
Night return	Uber directly back to the hotel

Itinerary

1. Eat near the hotel: Walk to Tachbrook Street / Warwick Way for an easy cafe or casual restaurant.

Tachbrook Street Market - Open in Google Maps

2. Start the bus loop: Walk to the Victoria Station / Buckingham Palace Road entrance. Board the Hop-On / Hop-Off Big Bus that matches your ticket.

Victoria Station Buckingham Palace Road entrance - Open in Google Maps

3. Sightseeing loop: Stay on the bus for the main sightseeing loop. You should pass Buckingham Palace / Green Park, Trafalgar Square / Piccadilly, Westminster / Big Ben, and London Eye / South Bank.

4. Westminster photos: Get off near London Eye / Westminster Bridge. Walk: London Eye -> Westminster Bridge -> Big Ben photos -> Parliament Square -> Westminster Abbey exterior -> back to London Eye.

Photo Spots

- Big Ben from Westminster Bridge
- London Eye from Westminster Bridge
- Queen's Walk river views

If You're Tired

If tired after the London Eye, skip the longer Queen's Walk and eat near Southbank Centre / Royal Festival Hall, then Uber directly back to the hotel.

Rain Plan

If raining, still do the London Eye if tickets are booked, then stay around Southbank Centre / Royal Festival Hall for food and indoor cover. Use Uber back to the hotel.

Day 2: Saturday, June 27

Tower Bridge, Borough Market and West End Exploring

Main area

Tower Hill / Tower Bridge / Borough Market / Covent Garden / Soho / Chinatown

Transportation

Tube + walking; Uber or black cab back if tired

Food

Borough Market lunch; casual dinner in Soho / Chinatown / Covent Garden

Tickets

No tickets planned in advance

Night return

Tube if early and comfortable; Uber or black cab if tired

Itinerary

1. Breakfast: Start with breakfast at the hotel.

2. Tube to Tower Hill: Walk to Pimlico Station. Take Pimlico -> Victoria Station, change at Victoria, then Victoria -> Tower Hill Station. Confirm the easiest route that morning with TfL Go or Google Maps.

Photo Spots

- Tower Bridge from the south side of the Thames
- Neal's Yard colorful courtyard
- Chinatown gate
- Carnaby Street

If You're Tired

If tired after Borough Market, skip the full Soho / Carnaby Street walk and go straight to Covent Garden and Neal's Yard, then dinner.

Rain Plan

If raining, spend more time around Borough Market, Covent Garden, covered shops, cafes, and Chinatown. Use Tube or Uber between areas as needed.

Day 3: Sunday, June 28

Palace Morning and Camden Daytime Adventure

Main area

Buckingham Palace / St. James's Park / Trafalgar Square / Camden

Transportation

Walking + Tube; Uber or Tube back depending on timing and energy

Food

Camden Market lunch; final dinner in Covent Garden, Soho, or near the hotel

Tickets

No fixed tickets

Night return

Keep Camden as a daytime stop; return central before final dinner

Itinerary

- 1. Breakfast: Start with breakfast at the hotel.
- 2. Palace photos: Walk or take short transit to Buckingham Palace. See the exterior and gates.

Buckingham Palace - Open in Google Maps

3. Park and Mall walk: Walk through St. James's Park, then walk The Mall toward Trafalgar Square.

4. Tube to Camden: From central London, take the Tube to Camden Town. Use Google Maps or TfL Go for the best route that morning.

Camden Town Station - Open in Google Maps

5. Camden Market lunch: Make Camden Market the daytime anchor. Get lunch and explore the stalls, shops, signs, and street food.

Camden Market - Open in Google Maps

6. Regent's Canal if energy is good: If weather and energy are good, take a short Regent's Canal walk near Camden Lock. Keep it short and easy.

Regent's Canal - Open in Google Maps

7. Final dinner: Return toward central London for final dinner in Covent Garden, Soho, or near the hotel. Use Uber or the Tube depending on timing and energy.

Covent Garden - Open in Google Maps

Hotel - Open in Google Maps

Photo Spots

- Buckingham Palace gates
- Camden Market signs
- Queen's Walk river views

If You're Tired

If tired, skip Regent's Canal and spend only 1 to 2 hours at Camden Market before returning toward the hotel.

Rain Plan

If raining, shorten the park walk and spend more time in Camden Market covered areas, cafes, and shops.

Departure Day: Monday, June 29

Keep this morning simple. Eat breakfast at the hotel if timing works, double-check passports and phones before leaving the room, and use the JetBlue app plus the flight confirmation for updates. Use the hotel address and saved ride apps if you need help coordinating pickup.
